FOREWORD

The Boston College Fact Book is a summary of significant statistics gathered from various sources throughout the University. Once again, we wish to extend sincere thanks and appreciation for the excellent cooperation and assistance received from these many sources.

The purpose of the Fact Book is to produce a single-source publication and reference document touching upon and integrating all aspects of the institution's people and its operations. We do wish to point out to all users that the information presented herein was compiled at a specific time — August-October, 1982 — to reflect the Academic Year 1981-1982. This year we have also been able to include the most current enrollment statistics for 1982-83, as of October 7, 1982. Other new data has been incorporated into the appropriate sections.

The majority of the information is extracted from management reports produced on a regular basis by the various source offices. When reviewing the figures presented we advise you to always note the time frame referenced in the individual tables.

We continue our efforts to make the Fact Book as current as possible, as well as an historical overview. Ideas for improvements and suggestions for additional data are encouraged.

BOSTON COLLEGE

A Brief History

Boston College was founded by the Society of Jesus in 1863, and is one of twenty-eight Jesuit colleges and universities in the United States. With three teachers and twenty-two students, the school opened its doors on September 5, 1864. While it remained a small liberal arts college, the faculty was predominantly Jesuit, but today's full-time faculty is comprised of 41 Jesuits and over 500 lay men and women. Part-time faculty positions are held by 22 Jesuits, in addition to 21 Jesuit members of the university administration.

Originally located on Harrison Avenue in the South End of Boston, where it shared quarters with the Boston College High School, the College outgrew its urban setting toward the end of its first fifty years. A new location was selected in Chestnut Hill, then almost rural, and four parcels of land were acquired in 1907. A design competition for the development of the campus was won by the firm of Maginnis and Walsh, and ground was broken on June 19, 1909, for the construction of Gasson Hall. It is located on the site of the Lawrence farmhouse, in the center of the original tract of land purchased by Father Gasson, and is built largely of stone taken from a quarry which occupied part of the sites of Devlin, Higgins, and Cushing Halls. The foundations were blasted out of solid ledge. Because of its historic value, Gasson was completely restored in 1976 in order to preserve its familiar Gothic spires for future generations of students and alumni.

Later purchases doubled the size of the property, with the addition of the upper campus in 1941, and the lower campus with the purchase of the Lawrence Basin and adjoining land in 1949. In 1974 Boston College acquired Newton College of the Sacred Heart, a mile-and-a-half from the main campus. With fifteen handsome Georgian buildings standing in a park-like estate of forty acres, it is now the site of the Boston College Law School, as well as several academic departments, and dormitories housing over 800 freshmen and sophomores.

Though incorporated as a University since its beginning, it was not until its second half-century that Boston College began to fill out the dimensions of its University charter. The Summer Session was inaugurated in 1924; the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences in 1925; the Law School, 1929; the Evening College, 1929; the Graduate School of Social Work, 1936; the College of Business Administration, 1938. The latter, along with its Graduate School established in 1957, is now known as the School of Management. The Schools of Nursing and Education were founded in 1947 and 1952, respectively. Weston Observatory, founded in 1928, was accepted as a Department of Boston College in 1947, offering courses in geophysics and geology to graduate students.

In 1927 Boston College conferred one earned bachelor's degree and fifteen master's degrees on women through the Extension Division, the precursor of the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, the Evening College, and the Summer Session. Today's women students comprise more than 57 percent of the University's enrollment, and 38 percent of a total alumni body of almost 78,000.

Now the fourth largest private university in New England, with full- and part-time enrollment of over 14,000, Boston College consists of eleven schools, colleges, and institutes offering thirteen degree programs and one certification program.

¹This statistic includes regular university scholarships and grants (through the operating budget), faculty kin tuition remission, minority scholarships, athletic grants, Jesuit Reduction, Alumni Association Scholarships, and endowed monies for scholarships.

²State scholarship funds to students from Massachusetts, Vermont, Connecticut, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island.

³Students who are enrolled at least half-time in an undergraduate degree program are eligible to apply for these grants. Grants are awarded to students with need, and eligibility is determined directly by the Federal Government.

⁴Available to students enrolled at least half-time in an undergraduate degree program. These grants are awarded to students with exceptional need and are termed "last resort." The amount of the award must be matched by an equal amount of other aid.

⁵Gross work study wages for 1981-82 were $198,653. The breakdown between graduates and undergraduates is estimated.

⁶Available to undergraduates enrolled at least half-time. These loan funds are obtained by Federal Government contributions, Boston College contributions and collections of previous loans awarded. The loans have up to a 10-year repayment period with an interest rate of 5% per year on the unpaid balance.

⁷This is a duplicated total since some students receive more than one type of aid.

NOTE: In an effort to minimize statistical detail, the above data does not include Boston College graduate student assistance (approximately $2,526,203 in 1981-82), administered by the various schools and departments. Also excluded are the Nursing Scholarship and Loan Programs ($157,100 in 1981-82), a variety of government fellowships or scholarships from fraternal organizations and clubs ($659,259 in 1981-82), and Higher Education Loans processed by the Financial Aid Office and disbursed by banks ($20,131,924 in 1981-82), all of which are open to both undergraduate and graduate students. (In addition to these programs, the Student Employment Office placed 2,700 students in summer and term jobs both on and off campus.)

NOTE: Alumni totals include widows of alumni who have chosen to maintain their husbands' ties with Boston College. This number (674, FALL '82) is reflected in the male totals, with the spouse's respective class.

Also included are individuals who attended Boston College for at least one year without graduating. These alumni are referred to as "EX". Please note the last columns of pages 38-41 which list these alumni with their classes.

Double- and triple-degreed alumni are counted by their primary (or first-received) degree only.

SPECIAL LIBRARY SERVICES

COMPUTER SEARCHES

Customized computer literature searches are available to the Boston College Community on over 225 databases. A computer search is an alternative to manual literature searching. It is recommended when a literature search involves several concepts or groups of concepts, or when limiting factors (e.g., type of publication, language, date of publication) are introduced. Databases are available in biomedicine, all areas of business and economics, most areas in the humanities and social sciences, all of the sciences, technology and engineering. There are also a substantial number of multidisciplinary databases as well as databases which cover specific types of publications (e.g., newspapers, dissertations, audiovisual material, patents).

Most of the databases are bibliographic in nature, that is, they lead the user to printed sources of information. However, an increasing number of databases are nonbibliographic. These files contain the actual textual or numeric data in complete format thereby eliminating the need to consult an additional printed source for the data.

A complete list of the databases available for searches, request forms, and further information can be obtained from the reference staff in each library.

INTERLIBRARY LOAN

The Interlibrary Loan Service is offered to students, faculty, administration and staff, to facilitate obtaining materials not available in the Boston College Libraries. Books, photocopies of journal articles, microfilm, theses, and government documents can be borrowed from other libraries. Except for unusual items, the waiting period is from one to four weeks; for anyone willing to use the material at the holding library, a computerized system will provide locations within twenty-four hours of the request. Request forms and further information are available from the reference staff in each library.

BOSTON LIBRARY CONSORTIUM

The library is a member of the Boston Library Consortium, a group of area libraries which includes Brandeis, Boston University, Tufts, Wellesley, Northeastern, MIT, Massachusetts State Library, Boston Public Library, and University of Massachusetts. Faculty and graduate students may apply for a Consortium borrowers card at the reference department in Bapst. The Consortium maintains a central office at the Boston Public Library, publishes a newsletter, and maintains the following committees: Directors, Acquisitions, Serials, Readers' Services, and Cataloging. Further information may be found in the User Guide and the Consortium Handbook, available in all libraries.

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT PUBLICATION

In 1963 Boston College was designated one of the two depository libraries in this congressional district. This status entitles Boston College Libraries to receive on a selective basis United States government publications at no cost with the stipulation they be made available to the general public. The extensive collection is housed in each of the libraries on campus. Most of the material circulates in the same manner as books. Inquiries related to the retrieval and use of government documents should be directed to the Government Documents Department at Bapst Library.

NEW ENGLAND LIBRARY INFORMATION NETWORK

Through membership in the New England Library Information Network (NELINET), there is on-line access to publishing, cataloging, and inter-library loan location information from the data bank of OCLC, Inc. which contains over 8.6 million records from the Library of Congress and some 2,900 other contributing institutions.

SPECIAL COLLECTIONS

Many rare and valuable materials are included in Special Collections, ranging from medieval manuscripts to modern limited editions, fine bindings, autographed copies, and letters of established authors. Because of their scarcity, value, or fragile nature access is limited. Below are brief notes on some of the more outstanding collections. Contact the Special Collections Librarian for further information.

BELLOC COLLECTION

The library and personal papers of Hilaire Belloc (1870-1953). Over 8,100 volumes; 150 manuscripts; 6,000 letters, including correspondence with several outstanding literary figures.

These archives contain materials documenting the Council's work in the court-ordered desegregation of the Boston Public Schools through busing.

CONGRESSMAN ROBERT F. DRINAN ARCHIVES

These archives document the ten years (1970-1980) during which Robert F. Drinan, S.J. served as the representative of the fourth congressional district of Massachusetts. It includes legislative and general correspondence, committee hearings and reports, voting records, speeches, campaigns, and local office files.

FRANCIS THOMPSON COLLECTION

This, the most complete collection of Thompsoniana in existence, includes first and rare editions, manuscripts, notebooks, letters, and other material relating to the poet, his time (1859-1907) and his work.

IRISH COLLECTION

This collection contains rare and limited editions of works dating from the 17th century to the present, in all fields of knowledge, with emphasis on history and literature. These special holdings are augmented by large numbers of books in the Bapst circulating collection. Early manuscripts and letters, as well as those of modern authors, add depth and interest to the published works. The collection is a rapidly growing one, and benefits from generous donors; among them is the Eire Society of Boston, which recently deposited its archives here.

JESUITANA

A collection of early and rare works by and about Jesuits. It includes Lettere e Relazione Orientale, a series of annual letters from Jesuit missionaries in Indo-China, Tibet, Japan, etc., published in Italy between 1590 and 1661. Most treasured is an original letter of St. Francis Xavier to John III, King of Portugal, dated January 31, 1552.

LITURGICAL COLLECTION

This collection seeks to document and illustrate the transitions in Catholic thought and piety that have occurred in this century, especially in the area of the liturgy. It includes books, periodicals, music, religious art, devotional material, unpublished manuscripts, and the papers of those most responsible for initiating and implementing renewal.

MERTON COLLECTION

The original typescript and galleys of The Seven Storey Mountain are gifts of Thomas Merton (1915-1968), along with galleys of The Waters of Siloe, and his own copy of The Poetry and Prose of William Blake. There is an autographed copy of each book published by him, and numerous periodicals containing the first printing of poems and essays, many of them uncollected.

MEYNELL COLLECTION

The most extensive collection in the Western Hemisphere of the works of Wilfrid and Alice Meynell and three of their children — Everard, Viola, and Sir Francis — providing a well-rounded view of this remarkable family of poets, biographers, novelists, essayists, editors and publishers over a period of nearly 75 years (ca. 1875-1950).

MORRISSEY COLLECTION OF JAPANESE PRINTS

Of particular value to those interested in the history of Japanese art this collection contains over 100 prints, paintings, and reproductions, Japanese artifacts, and several books. Especially noteworthy are landscape designs of Hiroshige (1797-1858) and Hokusai (1760-1849).

PATMORE COLLECTION

Coventry Patmore (1823-1896), poet, essayist, critic, close friend of Francis Thompson and of the Meynells, is represented here by numerous first editions, manuscripts, articles, book reviews and letters. Among the correspondents are Arnold, Browning, Carlyle, Emerson, Hawthorne, Rossetti, Tennyson and Thackeray.

STOUT COLLECTION

The library and papers of Rex Stout (1886-1975), creator of the Nero Wolfe mystery stories contain 1,054 volumes, including over 700 foreign editions in various languages; 125 literary manuscripts, many with the author's corrections; 7 cases of correspondence.

WILLIAMS COLLECTION

Approximately 10,000 books and pamphlets are contained in this collection, which provides valuable source material on the ethnology, social and natural history of the West Indies, with special emphasis on Jamaica. Some unusual items of Africana and Judaica are also included.

THE BOSTON COLLEGE GUILD OF ST. LUKE OF BOSTON HEALTH ETHICS COLLECTION

Initiated in 1974, this contains books, pamphlets, periodicals, reprints and audio-visual materials which concern the ethics of medicine and health care.

RITA KELLEHER COLLECTION

In recognition of her twenty-five years of service to the School of Nursing, including twenty years as Dean, this collection contains archival, historical, research, and other significant materials in nursing.

NATIONAL HEALTH PLANNING INFORMATION CENTER

The Boston College School of Nursing Library is one of the twenty six United States and European depositories for NHPIC non-copyrighted materials in microfiche format. These cover a variety of topics relevant to health planning and resources with a strong nursing component. Consult the Librarian and Reference Librarian for additional information in regard to the scope and use of this collection.
